Grady Chancellor Asks Chief's Job Pahokee Election

Grady Chancellor, 48, and a long-time member of the Pahokee police department, has announced his intention of running for Chief of Police in the City of Pahokee at the annual election to be held May 4. Chancellor was on the police force in Pahokee for 11 years before resigning in November, 1964. The majority of the time he served was under his brother-in-law, Chief Leon Guthrie.

Mr. Chancellor said, if elected, he planned to operate the police force much in the same manner used by Chief Guthrie. Especial emphasis will be placed on safety in the school zones, he said, pointing to the fact that for years and years there has not been a serious accident in either of the school zones.

"I plan to be the head of the department if the good people see fit to elect me to this highly important office," Mr. Chancellor said, "and I will not leave the executive duties of the office to some other person nor will I delegate the official duties of the office to some lieutenant."

In commenting further on his candidacy for the police chief's job, the recently announced candidate said: "I respectfully solicit the vote and support of the people of Pahokee and offer them 11 years of diligent and conscientious police service as a qualification for the office. I will greatly appreciate support and votes of those who have the power and authority to elect the chief—the citizens of Pahokee."

Ask Repeal Of Tag Tax Increase

TALLAHASSEE.—The Florida Conference of AAA Motor Clubs has called on the 1965 Florida Legislature to assist Gov. Haydon Burns to carry out his campaign pledge to repeal the 1963 auto license tag increase and to roll back tag issuance to the former 12-month system.

The AAA also is backing a move for the central issuance of drivers' licenses, and is asking for adequate and proper rest areas on Florida's Interstate highways.

These and many other proposals are contained in a program mapped by the state's three AAA clubs—the Peninsula Motor Club with headquarters in Tampa, the East Florida Division of the AAA with headquarters in Miami, and the St. Petersburg Motor Club.

All legislators, State Cabinet members and many other officials and others interested in public safety will receive copies of the AAA program and will be urged to push the proposals in the Legislature which begins April 6.

Baptists Planning For New College

WEST PALM BEACH—Florida Baptists are planning a new college to be built in Palm Beach Gardens to serve students of all faiths. The school will be known as Florida Baptist College.

John D. MacArthur, president of Bankers Life & Casualty Co., has given the site for the college adjacent to the new Palm Beach Gardens interchange of the Sunshine State Parkway.

Campaign general chairman is Fred O. Dickinson, Jr., former state senator and candidate for governor. Dr. Donald Warren, heart specialist, is executive vice chairman of the money-raising campaign.

Milton Salvatore Installed Ruler Of Pahokee Elks

Installation ceremonies were held by the Pahokee Elks Lodge last night and Milton Salvatore was installed as Exalted Ruler of the institution. Robert Grafton, vice president of the Florida State Elks Association for the Southeast district, made the installation of Mr. Salvatore and duly elected officers of the lodge.

Others installed were: Robert McIntosh, esteemed leading knight; William B. Shirley, esteemed loyal knight; Richard K. Amos, esteemed lecturing knight; E. A. Jensen, secretary; Gordon Hillier, treasurer; Melvin Spooner, trustee for five years and Lewis Cowart, tiler.

Appointive officers were filled by Ruler Salvatore. He named William C. Darden, inner guard; William S. Benton, chaplain; Robert O. Lampi, Organist and Don Adams, esquire.

A chicken barbecue was held for the members and visitors immediately following the installation ceremonies. Frank O'Connell, who handles the delectable foods at the club, proved again that he is a past master when it comes to serving barbecue.

The annual inaugural ball is scheduled for Saturday, April 10. The ball is to honor the new officers and their wives.

WSCS MEETING

The Canal Point WSCS will meet in the Sunday School building Tuesday night at 8 p. m. The program will be presented by Mrs. A. R. Harrington with Mrs. E. H. Hollon, hostess.

STANLEY'S VISIT

Capt. and Mrs. Millard Stanley arrived Monday for a week's visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Stanley. Capt. Stanley has been attending a special program managers' school at Wright Patterson AFB in Dayton, Ohio.

Whiskey Saloons Lose Hours Battle City Belle Glade

Whiskey dealers in the City of Belle Glade took a severe shellacking at the polls Tuesday of this week when citizens voted by more than five to one margin AGAINST longer hours for sale of liquor. The fight to contain the hours as they are at present was led by the First Baptist Church of Belle Glade and its pastor, Rev. Luther Key and the Belle Glade Ministerial Association.

Members of the City Commission had intimated that they would follow the findings of the election which was a straw ballot affair and not official. It is easy to guess that the hours will now remain the same as they were before the election, especially in the face of the five to one vote.

It was the second time in less than four years that an attempt was made to change the opening and closing hours of liquor stores and taverns.

Freeholders only were given a chance to change the hours from 8 a. m. until midnight, Monday through Friday, with an extra hour on Saturday, to 7 a. m. opening and 2 a. m. closing, except Saturdays when the one hour extension would again be allowed.

Local Baptists To Hold Week Revival

The Canal Point Baptist Church is planning a revival for the week of April 18-25. The pastor announced the following committee for making plans and preparations for the revival.

Those committees are as follows: Prayer Committee: Deacon Cecil Clark, chairman, Gerry Atkins, Buna Rodgers, Lucy Evans, Inez Rogers; Hospitality Committee: Dee Maxson, chairman, Joyce Arrietta, Mari Hughes, Irma Martin and Maude Cross; Publicity: Deacon Alton Jones, chairman, Louise Latham, Louise Baker, John Strayer and Charles Brown; Telephone Committee: Deacon J. H. Bordeaux, chairman, Virginia McCall, Juanita Bracewell, Betty Scruggs and Roselle Bradley; Promotion Committee: Deacon Perry Hall, chairman, J. G. Weeks, Raymond Martin, Mattie Thompson and Fay Ursry; Ushering Committee: R. T. Smith, chairman, Jim Gifford, A. T. Holt, James Gibson and Arnold J. Scruggs.

Prospects Committee: Deacon Grady Echols, chairman, Elizabeth Brown, co-chairman, Nellie Reuter, Kathryn Rardin, Edyth Smith and Edna Brown; Floral Arrangements Committee: Rachel Scruggs, chairman, Doris Carter, Ruby Tucker and Annie Jones.

Pensacola Museum Civil War Relics

PENSACOLA — A recent addition to the collection of Civil War relics in the T. T. Wentworth, Jr. Museum of Pensacola is a Confederate torpedo found on a sunken ship in the Gulf of Mexico at the entrance to Pensacola Bay by C. F. Crooke, Jr. The relic was presented to the museum by Mr. Crooke. The torpedo, in the water for 100 years, is probably the only one of its type in existence. It was one of many used by the Confederates against the shipping of Union forces.

The Wentworth Museum is open every Saturday and Sunday in Pensacola and is free to the public.

New Laws To Force Drunken Driver Off The Highways

Pressure is mounting for the Legislature to give serious consideration to passage of traffic measures designed to force the drunken driver off the state's highways.

State Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer Broward Williams Tuesday urged passage of a measure commonly termed the "implied consent" law which is in force in at least 10 states.

His staff said it had been held constitutional.

Briefly, the law provides for lifting a suspected drunken driver's license until after an administrative hearing by the Department of Public Safety is held.

The practical effect of the law eliminates going first to court on drunk driving cases by using the Department of Public Safety proceedings.

The arresting officer determines who should take the test at the scene. If a person takes the test than an administrative hearing is held.

Refusal to take the test results in the officer swearing out an affidavit which is sent to the Department of Public Safety which lifts the license.

In effect, refusal to take the test is a presumption of guilt and results in loss of the license until the administrative hearing the suspect can prove his innocence.

Also the practical effect is that without chemical tests to back him up a suspect will have a more than sufficient time in proving his innocence over a presumption of guilt.

ON HONOR ROLL

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Wilson received word this week from Dean John L. Baxter of Andrew College Cuthbert, Ga., that their daughter, Miss Linda Wilson has been placed on the Honor Roll this quarter. To be eligible for the honor roll, a student must have completed at least 15 quarter hours with a "B" average.

Bryant, Clewiston, Moore Haven And Okeelanta Finish

Another successful sugar cane grinding season is fast coming to an end here on the shores of Lake Okeechobee in western Palm Beach county and eastern Hendry county. Despite the fact that freeze damage in many parts of this cane producing area was the worst since 1941, the growers have had a successful season and will finish the season well in the black.

The Bryant mill of the U. S. Sugar Corporation closed down last week as did the huge mill at Clewiston operated by the same concern. Over in Glades county the Moore Haven Sugar House is quiet this week following a good season.

Present plans call for Osceola Farms Mill east of Canal Point to finish its grinding season on Saturday night of this week. The Glades Sugar House of the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative will not finish grinding for several days. Tentative plans call for completion on April 9, 10, or 11th. No official day has been set by the concern. Okeelanta has completed its grinding for the season.

Sugar cane production and its promised profits seem to have lured many a muck farmer over from growing vegetables to the production of sugar cane. Back two or three years ago when the sugar boom was at its highest and land leased for as high as $100 per acre, everything seemed rosy. Then came the dawn. The facts of life about the sugar deal brought many back to reality that all was not Gold that glittered.

Now that the shakedown cruise is over for the new producers, they are settling down to producing cane as it should be produced and finding out first hand that the profits aren't as long as promised. Several changes have been made in the line-up of growers of cane. This week one producer with more than 400 acres has sold his cane and leased his land on a long term lease. Much more of this can be expected.

Easter To Bring Sunrise Service

The Easter Sunrise Service for the Canal Point community will be held on April 18. The complete plans are not available at this time.

Mrs. Stanley Hooks will direct the combined choirs of the Canal Point Methodist and Canal Point Baptist Churches and will be accompanied by Miss Sharon Johnson.

This will be the Second Annual Easter Sunrise Service.

Polio Disappears In United States

Residents of Palm Beach County were reminded today that ten years ago, on April 12, 1955, the Salk vaccine was declared "safe, effective and potent."

Dr. V. D. Stone, Chairman of the Medical Advisory Committee, said "We can give thanks not only for the safety nowadays of our families, friends and neighbors, but also that polio has virtually disappeared everywhere else in the United States."

Dr. Stone pointed out "that last year in Palm Beach County there were no cases of polio. Ten years ago, however, polio cases in the county totaled 23 and in the State of Florida there were 466 cases."

He added "that with the start of mass vaccination nationally under March of Dimes auspices in 1955, the incidence of polio began to turn downward, slowly at first and then with increasing momentum as more children received the Salk vaccine. From a 1950-54 average of 38,727 cases per year, the annual level of cases followed a downward trend to only 1,312 in 1961, of which 988 were reported as paralytic. This represented a drop of 97 percent and marked the end of epidemic polio in the United States."

"In the decade since 1955," he said, "the number of cases of polio in this country has dropped more than 99 percent. As a result, during 1964 only 121 cases of polio were reported, a rate of less than one per million population."

Brenda J. Ingram Weds J. W. Ogle

Miss Brenda Joyce Ingram, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ingram, 2640 East Main St., Pahokee, became the bride of James Willard Ogle of Pahokee, son of Mrs. Vera Weaver of Plant City, at the Church of God of Prophecy in Pahokee Saturday, March 20, at 3 p. m.

The vows for the double-ring ceremony were read by Rev. John Goodyear, pastor of the Glades Baptist Church, as the couple stood before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and pompons with potted palms in the background.

Miss Jean Kinard, vocalist, sang "I love You Truly" and "Tell Me Why," accompanied by Mrs. Glenda Broome, pianist, who also played traditional nuptial music.

Miss Regina Ann Ingram, sister of the bride, as maid of honor wore a blue organdy gown and a pink carnation corsage. The dress of Phyllis Ann Slomaker, flower girl, was the same color and styled similarly to that of the maid of honor.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of lace over taffeta had a fitted bodice, styled with high neckline and long sleeves, and a full-length bouffant skirt. The elbow-length veil of French illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Dewey Ogle served as his brother's best man. Richard Ingram and Jerry Ingram, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

Mrs. Ingram chose for her daughter's wedding a sky blue two-piece suit. Mrs. Weaver, mother of the bridegroom, also wore a two-piece suit of a darker shade of blue. The corsages of both mothers were of pink carnations.

At the reception following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Elaine Smith was at the punch bowl pouring while Mrs. Al Rhodes served portions of the wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ogle are now at their home 2024 East Main St., Pahokee, following a wedding trip. He is employed by Osceola Farms Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Freddy Clements and daughter, accompanied by her brothers, Ernest and Steve Johnson, spent this past weekend as the guests of Mr. Clements' parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Clements, at Fernandina Beach.

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new  $3\frac{3}{4}\%$  interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to  $2\frac{1}{2}\%$  for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed  $4\frac{1}{4}\%$  each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra  $\frac{1}{4}\%$  from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my H Bonds mature, will they keep earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your H Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic  $\frac{1}{4}\%$  increase makes it unwise to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOU SAVE MORE THAN MONEY WITH

Hostesses with Mrs. Wroten were members of the Loyalty Sunday School Class of the Pahokee First Baptist Church.

STEVE JOHNSON IS NINE

Mrs. E. C. Johnson entertained with a party honoring her son, Steve, on his 9th birthday, Tuesday, March 23, at their home. Approximately 25 classmates and friends attended. Mrs. Johnson was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Freddie Clements.

Kathy Wilson Weds Wayne C. Browning

Miss Kathleen Wilson and Wayne Claxton Browning were united in marriage at the First Methodist Church in Pahokee Friday, March 19, at 8 p.m., with Rev. John A. Briley, pastor, officiating at the candlelight, double-ring ceremony. Lighting the altar, which was banked with palms, was a branched candelabra bearing 15 cathedral tapers and centered with a basket arrangement of calla lilies, with a smaller tree candelabra entwined with smilax at either end of the kneeling bench. Lighted candles and smilax marked the pens reserved for relatives.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wilson, 1863 Bacon Point Rd., Pahokee. A graduate of Pahokee High School and Jones Business College, Orlando, she is presently employed in the offices of Dr. Richard K. Ames in Pahokee. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown, of Canal Point, also attended Pahokee High School and served for four years in the U. S. Air Force. He is now employed at the USDA Sugar Cane Field Station at Canal Point.

Nuptial music was furnished by Mrs. Donald Thompson, organist, and Mrs. Hugh H. Branch, vocalist, who sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Miss Alice Joy Wilson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a full-length gown of mint green organza over taffeta and carried a cascade of tangerine carnations and bells of Ireland.

The gowns of Mrs. Gary M. Clark, matron of honor, and Miss Joyce Brown, bridesmaid, were identical to that of the maid of honor and they carried the same bouquet. The flower girl, Mary Neil Spooner, also dressed similarly, carried a mint green basket of rose petals.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Leon Spooner, serving as proxy for her father, who was ill in the hospital. Her gown of organza lace over taffeta was fashioned with fitted bodice, short sleeves and scooped neckline overlaid with lace touched with seed pearls. The floor-length skirt, was overlaid at the back with an extended long train. A shoulder-length veil of French illusion flowed from a pillbox headdress studded with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of lilac phalaenopsis orchids centered with a cattleya orchid corsage.

Warren Repper served as Mr. Browning's best man. Ronald Berry and Horace Scruggs were ushers.

Mrs. Wilson chose for her daughter's wedding a street-length dress of green lace over satin, and Mrs. Browning, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dress of rose beige lace over satin. Their corsages were of green cymbidiums.

For the reception following the ceremony the social hall of the church was decked with palms and arrangements of tangerine carnations, with bells of Ireland on the piano. The bride's table, overlaid with a floor-length cloth of embroidered organdy scalloped with smilax, had as a centerpiece a silver candelabra bearing five lighted tapers with an espagnolette arrangement of white tulips, lilac, iris, stock and tuberoses. The tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride's bouquet of tiny orchids.

Mary and Karen Dobrow, with dresses identical to that of the flower girl, served as rice girls at the reception, distributing to the guests small packets of rice from mint green baskets. Assisting at the reception and wearing white iris corsages were Mrs. Ellis Hall, Mrs. Morgan Tyson, Mrs. Lewis Buckner, Mrs. Richard Ames, Mrs. Ronald Berry, Mrs. Thelma Hutton and Miss Dorothy Higby.

Mr. and Mrs. Browning are now at their home in Canal Point following the wedding trip to Key West.

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with

Miss Kathleen Wilson and Wayne Claxton Browning were united in marriage at the First Methodist Church in Pahokee on Friday, March 19, at 8 p. m., with Rev. John A. Briley, pastor, officiating at the candlelight, double-ring ceremony. Lighting the altar, which was banked with palms, was a branched candelabra bearing 15 cathedral tapers and centered with a basket arrangement of calla lilies, with a smaller tree candelabra entwined with smilax at either end of the kneeling bench. Lighted candles and smilax marked the pews reserved for relatives.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wilson, 1863 Bacon Point Rd., Pahokee. A graduate of Pahokee High School and Jones Business College, Orlando, she is presently employed in the office of Dr. Richard K. Ames in Pahokee. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown, of Canal Point, also attended Pahokee High School and served for four years in the U. S. Air Force. He is now employed at the USDA Sugar Cane Field Station at Canal Point.

Nuptial music was furnished by Mrs. Donald Thompson, organist, and Mrs. Hugh H. Branch, vocalist, who sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Miss Alice Joy Wilson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a full-length gown of mint green organza over taffeta and carried a cascade of tangerine carnations and bells of Ireland.

The gowns of Mrs. Gary M. Clark, matron of honor, and Miss Joyce Brown, bridesmaid, were identical to that of the maid of honor and they carried the same bouquet. The flower girl, Mary Nell Spooner, also dressed similarly, carried a mint green basket of rose petals.

Her gown of organza lace over taffeta was fashioned with fitted bodice, short sleeves and scooped neckline overlaid with lace touched with seed pearls. The floor-length skirt, was overlaid at the back with an extended long train. A shoulder-length veil of French illusion flowed from a pillbox headpiece studded with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of lilac phalaenopsis orchids centered with a catteleya orchid corsage.

For the reception following the ceremony the social hall of the church was decked with palms and arrangements of tangerine carnations, with bells of Ireland on the piano. The bride's table, overlaid with a floor-length cloth of embroidered organza scalloped with smilax, had as a centerpiece a silver candelabra bearing five lighted tapers with an epergne arrangement of white tulips, lily, iris, stock and tuberoses. The tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride's bouquet of tiny orchids.

Three Themes For Cancer Crusade

During its 1965 Crusade against Cancer in April, Cancer Control Month as proclaimed by President Johnson, the American Cancer Society, Palm Beach County Unit, will stress three themes.

"All are especially important and vital in helping save lives from cancer," according to Joe Moyle, Cancer Crusade chairman.

They are:

1. "Tell Your Neighbor." This means passing on to neighbors facts about cancer that might save their lives. Facts everyone should know about early diagnosis and prompt treatment as a precaution against death; also what people know about the value of an annual health checkup. Early diagnosis and prompt treatment save lives.

2. "To Help Cure More, Give More." There are about 1,300,000 Americans, now alive, cured of cancer. A large contributing factor has been broad public and professional education programs and research efforts. The American Cancer Society needs more money to help carry on and expand these programs.

3. "Fight Cancer With a Check and a Checkup." Many die from cancer today because they do not have an annual health checkup which can usually reveal the disease when it is early and most curable. Early diagnosis and prompt treatment is the difference between one out of two saved instead of one out of three — the number being saved now. If cancer exists, an annual checkup will usually disclose the disease when it is most curable. The check is self evident; without finances for important future research we can not hope to save half of those who develop cancer. Also the check will help provide greatly needed funds for broader public, professional and service programs.

"The effectiveness of these themes," Moyle said, "depends on the public's response to them. They are meaningful because anything that helps save lives has great meaning."
